Whig and Courier.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

C. A. BOUTELLE, EDITOR.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1885.

The Boston Post has information that Gen Butler is preparing to be an Administration Democrat. Should this prove to be the case so far as the Democratic party is concerned, it would be a very lively movement.

The Rockland Quaker and the Bangor Committee do not agree in their views of the recent meeting of the Democratic Committee. The Quakers say that Chairman Brown's course was improper, while the Committee claims that Brown received cold comfort.

The death of Judge Okey leaves a vacancy on the bench of the Ohio Supreme Court which has to be filled at the fall election, and the Republican are debating whether to recall all their State Convention or leave the election to the State Committee. The latter course is urged by the party leaders generally and is most likely to be adopted.

Among the declarations in the Democratic National platform last year was one to the effect that the Republic should be secured in the territories. It is now a question whether the Republic should be secured in the territories. It is now a question whether the Republic should be secured in the territories.

The Chicago Tribune still has the following editorial: For some time past the Chicago Tribune has been as good as new. Having never been used, it will be added to the stock of the factory before it is sent to the market. It is a rare chance to secure a new Tribune, and it is a rare chance to secure a new Tribune.

The Cincinnati Enquirer—pretty good Democratic organ on political affairs in Ohio and Indiana—is a dispatch from Indianapolis stating that it is now a question whether the Republic should be secured in the territories. It is now a question whether the Republic should be secured in the territories.

The Democratic press is attempting to counteract the effect of the appointment of Field, the horse thief on the ground that he was a Republican and not a Democrat. The Republicans have dropped this statement of the case as unavailing. If that version of the case was correct, it would naturally lead to know why President was selecting a Republican to be one of the judges of the case.

The Springfield Herald has written the old excuse "the President was appointed upon a false statement" as a reason for the current action of that body. The Cincinnati public force the President's better have let the matter alone until it is decided by the people of the State. The President's action is based upon a false statement.

Ohio men of both parties agree that Governor Hoadly is in exceedingly bad taste in declining to attend the Grant funeral, and one of them tells the Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal that if he is a candidate for reelection this fall he may prepare himself for a defeat as large as he can only be expected to do. The Grant funeral is a great event, and Governor Hoadly's action is a great mistake.

The First Assistant Postmaster General keeps his collective partnership still running at full speed during the Presidential election. The New York Sun significantly remarks a very high rate, but it is 100 a day, 200 a week, and 2,000 a year. There will be a very high rate for the Presidential election.

In its new columns the New York Evening Post gives a favorable report of the work of the Administration in its various departments. The Post is a very good Democratic organ, and it is a very good Democratic organ.

In connection with the Democratic talk of "corruption" under Republican administration the following paragraph from the Indianapolis Times is most appropriate: "Occasionally a Republican in office has proved dishonest and has been indicted, convicted, and punished, but no Republican administration has ever appointed corrupt and dishonest to office. Some Republican administrations have been sent to jail for robbing the Government, but no Republican has ever appointed postmaster while serving a term in jail for robbing the Government."

It is rather an odd grievance to bring against a man who has made as large an assignment as Mr. Butler. Yet, says the Boston Journal, it is this fact that Mr. Butler's enemies are now attempting to use to his prejudice, and they are representing the exhibit of his affairs, as made by the assignees, as a "great surprise." On the contrary, Mr. Butler declared, the day after his assignment, that he could pay $2 for every $1 he owed. It is his own fault that he is in this position.

A Saratoga despatch to the New York Evening Post, relative to the meeting of the Democratic State Committee, says: "Hubert O. Thompson and Col. H. H. Thompson head the Cooper forces, which have been increased in number somewhat by late arrivals from New York. They thought the movement was strictly from a business standpoint, or at least the Cooper papers so asserted, but it appears that before he had time to become familiar with even the ordinary duties of his office, he deserts his post to help run the Democratic machine. And yet Geo. William Curtis points to the New York officials selected by President Cleveland as a striking illustration of his adherence to 'reform.' What hypocrisy!"

The Boston Herald, which attempts to excuse any and all the acts of the Administration, having undertaken to "smooth over" the matter, the Advertiser, another Cleveland organ, administers the following rebuke: "The Boston Herald has been grossly imposed upon after waiting about a week in order, as it says, to learn the facts about the case of Michael Mullon the Cincinnati politician who, without warning, arrested and shut up 150 Republicans before election and kept them there until the polls closed, and who has been pardoned by the President. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case."

The New York Times does not appear to be in sympathy with President Cleveland's action of appointing Field as a judge. In its recent article, it says: "There is no doubt as to the ability of the President to appoint Field as a judge. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case."

What has the Administration Done? (New York Tribune) It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case.

The Administration has done nothing. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case. It is a most curious case, and it is a most curious case.

The First Assistant Postmaster General keeps his collective partnership still running at full speed during the Presidential election. sort of public favor by forcing into bankruptcy a most successful American ship-repairer, but now going to the aid of his old enemy, the Interior Department, may be judged by the conduct of the postmaster general, which has been completely disgraced by the change for purely partisan reasons in 400 examining boards.

The Attorney General has so far done nothing, except to deliver an opinion for a partisan purpose, which any lawyer would pronounce unworthy of his reputation. No policy has been disclosed by the Army Department, and the State Department has manifested its purpose only by the selection of disloyal persons to represent this country abroad. Is there still any possibility of better ideas or plans? Will any one say that the new man who will be appointed as the whole better off than the experienced one who is displaced? Or will any one say that, in the public policy, it has disclosed the most Democratic Administration in any one respect to be preferred to either of the Republican Administrations which preceded it?

New York State To the Editor of the Whig and Courier: The political situation in New York State is of such importance to this city as to command the closest attention of the people of the entire country. Republican leaders and followers are very deeply interested in the success of the Republican State ticket in New York, the only election this fall, as the ticket is to be elected, will result in the election of the next President of the United States.

The Republican ticket of this State believes that with unflinching and a strong and popular policy, it will carry the State by a landslide majority, and are consequently looking out for the fall to come when the result will be a landslide in favor of the Republican ticket.

Special Notice. A First Class Lady Compositor. Whig Job Office.

THE LOMBARD INVESTMENT CO. The system of investing money by means of the Agency of the Lombard Investment Co. has become so well known in the West that it is now a question whether the Republic should be secured in the territories. It is now a question whether the Republic should be secured in the territories.
